

Dear Woke Homeschooler,

We are working on revising and updating the 2019 version of Oh Freedom! (Original and Secular). The most significant change will be the resources we use to learn the story of Native Americans. I have listened to those who have brought to my attention how some of the resources I included in the curriculum are problematic.

I am sincerely sorry and frankly, horrified. Most importantly, I am working to make this right and including more voices by Native Americans in the updated edition. I will be releasing it this year (2020). But please understand that these updates take time.

In the meantime, I encourage you OMIT the following resources:

- Pedro's Journal
- Only the Names Remain
- America Before Columbus (documentary)

When I'm done with the update, the curriculum will be better, richer and more accurate and respectful of the Native American experience. Because you purchased the 2019 edition, you will receive the updated file free of charge.

Thank you for your support and for your continued commitment to teach your kids a more inclusive story.

Best regards,

Delina

Delina

P.S. If you're not there already, I invite you to join the Woke Homeschooling-Curriculum Discussion group on Facebook. There parents connect with others who are working through the curriculum with their kids. Just provide your order number and we'll let you right in.